Don't let us down: UN climate change talks in Cancun.

Méthode

Ceci n'est pas le début d'une contraction mais d'une explication de texte

The text is an extract from the periodic "The Independent"

The extract talks about the climate change and more precisely, how to reduce the impact of climate change in the world. So government recopiage ministers from more than 190 countries gather in Cancun for a conference. The failure into the progress of climate change will devastate vast areas and the first hit will be some poorest parts of the world due to rising sea levels, drought and famine.

Méthode
The last Conference in Copenhagen was discredited because they giving only a 50/50 chance of keeping warming was not enough, so the conference in Cancun is very important as Chris Huhne who thinks that the talks is "the best chance" of keeping global temperatures whereas the professor Gaubh thinks that "increasingly implausible"
